

2023 Guildhouse Terms and Conditions

Guildhouse offers three types of membership to meet the varying needs of practitioners and other professionals in the visual art, craft and design industry.

- Accredited Membership (insurance based) - $290 per year
- Community Membership - $98 per year
- Student Membership – Free for the duration of studies

Guildhouse allows members to break down the annual fees into smaller payments over the year, however, members must note that all membership payments must be honoured for a full year if an instalment option is selected.

Additional insurance premiums for any artists, designers or craftsperson using an open flame or kiln must be paid for in addition to Accredited Membership. These payments can be made by calling (08) 8410 1822.

- Open Flame Premium - $106
- Kiln Use Premium - $84

Failure to declare the use of kilns or an open flame can result in rejected claims and voiding of coverage. Please contact Guildhouse if you have any questions at guildhouse@guildhouse.org.au or Local Community Insurance Services on 1300 853 800.

Applications/renewals for Guildhouse membership cannot be considered complete, and places in workshops, programs, or other events cannot be guaranteed until payment has cleared.

While Guildhouse will take reasonable steps to notify members that their membership is due for renewal, members are responsible for ensuring their membership is up to date. Guildhouse does not accept any liability for loss or damage suffered by the member as a result of them failing to renew their membership or due to any act or omission by the member.

Guildhouse Member Applicant Declaration

I acknowledge and agree that:

- I have read the terms and conditions of Guildhouse Membership.
- I understand that by becoming a Guildhouse Member I agree to being added to the Guildhouse mailing list/s to receive eBulletins and other communications from Guildhouse about art, craft and design related news and events, opportunities and other information. I know I can unsubscribe from the mailing list at any time.
- I understand Guildhouse's Accredited membership insurance policy only covers Guildhouse Accredited Members, not all Members.
- I understand it is my responsibility to nominate for any additional insurance premiums if I use an Open Flame or Kiln.
- I agree that the information and material I provide as part of my membership application (CV, artist statement, images and all other documentation) may be used by Guildhouse to provide referral services and promote Guildhouse, Australian visual art, craft and design practice and/or my practice through our publications, exhibitions and projects including social media and electronic communications and other media with appropriate credit and attribution.

- I certify that to the best of my knowledge the information I have provided in my application for Guildhouse Membership is correct and discloses a full and accurate picture of my work as a professional practicing artist, craftsperson, designer or arts worker.

Guildhouse Accredited Members:

As professional practicing artists and arts workers, Guildhouse Accredited Members are expected to operate fairly and ethically, which means adhering to all legal obligations relating to small business management, observing Work Health & Safety legislation and working within the confines of the Competition and Consumer Act as well as the Fair Trading laws in your respective State or Territory.

Exclusions:

Guildhouse's Accredited member insurance policy provides cover for your legal liability(ies) and does NOT include:

- cover for loss and/or damage to your own goods or property;
- your work in transit or on exhibition aspects of risk that arise where you are the employer of staff with other specific legal obligations, for example Workers' Compensation;
- sickness

Guildhouse's Accredited Membership is designed to cover the activities of the visual art, craft and design practitioner or arts worker as an individual operating as a sole trader. It also covers an individual member operating through a company or trust. The policy does not cover permanent employees and only extends cover to temporary contractors. As a practitioner, it is your responsibility to confirm that the insurance package covers all of your needs before cancelling any existing insurance. The Personal Accident insurance does not cover sickness, nor is it a replacement for health insurance, life insurance or travel insurance. As a practitioner you should note that Products Liability (insurance for bodily injury or property damage caused by a fault in the products you have made) is not retrospective. If you do not have Product Liability insurance at the time a claim is made, you will be personally liable for legal fees in defending any such case, and for any damages awarded against you.

Your Duty of Disclosure:

You have a duty to tell us anything that you know, or could reasonably be expected to know, that may affect the insurer's decision to insure you and on what terms. You have this duty until the insurer agrees to insure you. You have the same duty before you renew, extend, vary or reinstate an insurance contract. If you do not tell us something you are required to, the insurer may cancel your contract or reduce the amount it will pay you if you make a claim, or both. If your failure to tell us is fraudulent, the insurer may refuse to pay a claim and treat the contract as if it never existed. For the complete Duty of Disclosure as it appears in JLT's Financial Services Guide or if you are in any doubt as to whether a piece of information ought to be disclosed, please contact Local Community Insurance Services at insurance@lcis.com.au or telephone on 1300 853 800

The Fine Print:

Guildhouse's Accredited member insurance policy is arranged by Local Community Insurance Services and designed to protect you against allegations of common law legal liability, in other words, persons issuing legal proceedings against you in the event of your negligence. The policy is not intended to be "all embracing" but will cover the costs of a claim made against you, provided that the claim falls within the terms and conditions of the policy, and that the insurance company agrees to those costs being incurred. The insurer is QBE Insurance (Australia) Pty Ltd. It is a Broadform Public and Products Liability Insurance Policy with extension to provide Professional Indemnity cover.

DISCLAIMER:

Information contained herewith and in the Guildhouse Insurance Factsheet should not be relied upon in lieu of legal advice on any particular case, transaction or matter.

To obtain Guildhouse Accredited Membership you will need to complete an application, which will be assessed to determine your status as a professional practicing artist, craftsperson, designer or arts worker. You will also be required to pay the annual membership fee. Applicants will be considered suitable for Accredited Membership if they have or are actively working towards building a public reputation as an artist/arts worker. This may be demonstrated through a body of work, formal qualifications, professional experience and/or peer recognition (awards, grants, publications etc).

Once your application has been approved you will be notified that you have been accepted as an Accredited member of Guildhouse by email and your information will be given to Local Community Insurance Services who will add you to Guildhouse's insurance policy. If your application is declined your payment will be refunded. In all other cases Guildhouse Accredited Membership is non-refundable.

As an Accredited member the material (CV, artist statement, images) that you submit will be included in our data base of professional practitioners. This data base provides the basis for much of the referral work we do, and is used by galleries, retail outlets, curators, students, arts organisations and government bodies to assist them in selecting artists for professional opportunities, including commissions and exhibitions. Guildhouse may also use your submitted material to promote South Australian visual art, craft and design practice through our publications, exhibitions and projects, including social media and electronic communications. Keeping your details up to date with good quality images and information about your current practice enhances the referral services we undertake, as well as our promotion of South Australian visual art, craft and design.

Purchase and Refund Policy:

Guildhouse provides a secure website and payment gateway in accordance with Australian industry standards. All orders are encrypted for your security and privacy. All prices are in Australian Dollars (AUD). Applications/renewals for Guildhouse membership cannot be considered complete, and places in workshops, programs, or other events cannot be guaranteed until payment has cleared. Guildhouse accepts Visa, Mastercard, direct deposit.

Please contact us to pay by cheque or money order. Please be assured that member and customer satisfaction is of the utmost important to us. Because the circumstances which may require a refund are likely to vary with each individual request, however, we must assess requests for refunds on a case-by-case basis. Please contact us and we will be happy to discuss your needs.

Code of Conduct:

By agreeing to become a Guildhouse member you agree to operate under the following guidelines when interacting with staff, industry professionals and fellow members. Staff and member wellbeing is of primary concern and as such Guildhouse supports the rights of all our staff and members to live, work and create in a safe environment free from harassment, abuse and danger.

Guildhouse retains the right to terminate or reject membership if you are found to be in breach of our Code of Conduct. This termination may be without reimbursement.

In your dealings with Guildhouse, its operations and services, you will:

- Take personal responsibility for ensuring that you do not act in any way to undermine any person's sense of safety, comfort or control.
- Always recognise a person's right for privacy, dignity and respect.
- Model positive and professional behaviour, expecting all whom you encounter will do the same.
- Unless explicitly invited to do so, do not involve yourself in any part of a person's life not directly relating to the work you are undertaking with them or the services you are receiving from Guildhouse.
- Not invade a person's sense of person by knowingly undertaking any interaction or activity in a manner that is disrespectful or threatening.

The abuse of any person is a breach of trust and will not be tolerated. Guildhouse members show respect and courtesy by:

- speaking to people politely
- respecting rules and guidelines
- listening to others and using appropriate language
- ensuring a discrimination and sexual harassment free workplace.

At Guildhouse we strive to always make decisions that are fair, consistent, impartial and based on merit.

Procedure

If you believe you have been treated unfairly in our business, the following options are available:

- Talk to us. Our Operations Manager is available to take your call and hear your concerns.
- You may wish to put the matter in writing and email it through to guildhouse@guildhouse.org.au with Code of Conduct and your area of concern in the subject header. Please be clear and explain what you want to happen to resolve this complaint
- Seek information. Call the South Australian Equal Opportunity Commission
 - o Phone: (08) 8207 1977 or for Country Callers on 1800 188 163 (please leave a message and you will receive a call back),
 - o Email: EOC@sa.gov.au OR head to <https://eoc.sa.gov.au/resources/information-portals> for further reading around your concerns

At Guildhouse, we believe it is important to raise all concerns that may affect your work, or the delivery of services to you, as soon as possible.
